Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

GEORGE CURRY
Ex-Governor of New Mexico

"Tuxedo appeals to me strongly on account of its cool, mild, pleasant flavor. Therein lies its superiority to all other tobaccos."

Geo Curry

The original "Tuxedo Process" turns out the finest finished product in the smoke-world. Tobacco without one particle of harshness or bite in it—so soothing and mild and pleasant you never want to stop smoking it, and never have to. It's all-day-long enjoyment with Tuxedo, from the first bracing smoke in the morning to the last restful pipe at night.

You try it for a week—in pipe or cigarette—early and often. Stack it up against the best you ever smoked—and you'll find something better in Tuxedo.

WASTING MONEY EASILY

"The fool and his money are soon parted" is a good old saying that was true yesterday, is today, and will be until mankind grows greatly in wisdom and understanding. "Easy come, easy go" voices the same truth. There may be rare exceptions, but as a general rule only those who earn money are able to keep it. A typical illustration comes from an Atchison, Kansas, news dispatch as follows:

"How easy it is for money to be dissipated has been exemplified in the case of a formerly Atchison young woman who has spent $118,000 in about five years. Mrs. Billie De Boldt, who was formerly Miss Elizabeth Rowan of Atchison and who recently was married to a naval officer stationed in the East, is now said to be financially embarrassed.

"Her share of the estate of her grandfather, A. B. Symms, was $118,000, which was paid her in cash. It is understood this money is all gone and that she is now threatening to bring suit against the other heirs on the ground that she did not receive her full share.

"About five years ago she went to San Francisco to visit her father, Major A. S. Rowan, the man who carried the message to Garcia. While she was there she married Billie De Boldt, and later she demanded in cash the amount of money due her from the Symms estate.

"Her Atchison friends and acquaintances say she spent her money in luxurious living and that she also lost considerable in bad business investments. It is understood she invested $15,000 in a mushroom farm, which proved to be unprofitable and that she settled nearly $15,000 upon Mr. De Boldt when they were divorced.

"She recently wired her Atchison relatives asking for $500. She said her trunk was attached and that she needed the money to save her from much embarrassment."

Pittsfield failed to be awarded a place in the new Eastern baseball association organized in Boston yesterday of towns which composed the defunct of New England and Connecticut leagues and John A. Zeller, who managed the Pittsfield club during the year that the Berkshire city was in a real league, has announced that he is about to form a new circuit. The communities picked by Zeller and his partner, John P. O'Hara, are Brattleboro and Bellows Falls in Vermont, Northampton, Pittsfield, Greenfield and North Adams in Massachusetts. A sixclub league would give each town an average of three games a week which is all if not more than some of them can stand. Bennington has had some experience in professional baseball and the conclusion that has been reached after several seasons is that it is seldom possible to get out a paying crowd in the middle of the week. On the week-end holiday Bennington fans will turn out as well as in any community of its size but from Monday to Friday there are not a sufficient number of people in town who can spare the time from their work to ensure a profit at the gate. Similar conditions have existed in Brattleboro, Bellows Falls and North Adams, Northampton, too, has always finished a baseball season in debt. If industrial conditions throughout the country should continue normal during the coming summer, Messrs. Zeller and O'Hara may be able to launch and successfully pilot their league through a season but its a risky enterprise and none of the rocks and shoals on which similar projects have gone to wreck in the past have been removed from the baseball map.

England's First Almanac.

The first almanac printed in England was the "Kalendar of Shepherds," which appeared in 1497. Just forty years after Gutenberg printed his first almanac at Mentz. From that time onward almanacs were numerous, "omens and prognostications" being added in most cases to the calendar information. One of the earliest specimens preserved enjoys the title of "The Prognostication of Master John Tybault, of the influence of the moon, of pease and warre and of syknesses of the yere, with the constellations that be under the planets and the revolutions of kynges and princes."—London Mirror.

Does Your Child Have Worms?

Thousands of children suffer agonies from worms and their parents do not know it. Familiar symptoms of worms in children are: Deranged stomach, swollen upper lip, sour stomach, offensive breath, hard and full belly with occasional gripings and pains about the navel, pale face of leaden tint, eyes heavy and dull, twitching eyelids, itching of the nose, itching of the rectum, short dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red points sticking out on tongue, starting during sleep, slow fever. Grown folks are subject to worms also.

The one best remedy is Dr. True's Elixer, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller. Good for adults also. Mrs. Curtis of Houston, Texas, believes this, and writes that she will be glad to tell her friends of the benefits she has received. Get a bottle today—at your dealer's. 35c, 50c, and $1.00. Brattleboro Brags a Little.

Bennington is apparently holding its place as the fourth municipality in the state, its check list of 2,558 indicating a population of over 10,000. Burlington holds first rank in the state, Rutland is second and Barre third, Brattleboro's check list contains nearly 300 less names than Bennington's, but we do not believe there is a difference of 1,000 in the population of the two towns. The Port Dummer mills, now ranking as the leading industry of Brattleboro, increases its population largely, but

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by case to the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work.
